The small scale of the photograph, however, precludes identification of the exact configuration which is essential in differentiating the two types. There are what appear to be two unoccupied or alternate radar positions on the island. The relative proximity of similar type radars suggests use as equipment back-up in the event of malfunction or a different application of each radar.

3. The photo analyst on this project is [REDACTED] and he may be reached [REDACTED] should you have any further questions regarding this project.
